

YPF

Argentinian energy company, YPF, has organized three TEDx Business events in the past three years and they keep getting better! The company's key motivation is to ensure employees in different offices in the company "have access to ideas that can change the way they work." For their 2018 event, their TEDx Business event theme drove that objective home with the title: "Attitudes that transform."

