

For the third straight year, Procter & Gamble's Singapore office organized TEDxP&GSingapore. According to employee and event organizer Ali Malik, "the 15 speakers who faced 'What If?' (the event's theme) in their own lives shared ideas that inspired over 600 employees to dream with a purpose, to unleash their imagination through action, and to courageously break the status quo." Watch the video to hear the impact it made on employees and C-suite attendees.

