

TEDx

Business

Transform your workplace from within

TEDx

The world's largest grassroots network for discovering and spreading ideas, averaging over 10 events each day

Officially, the 'x' in TEDx stands for independently organized TED event — but it's more of a TED multiplied. It's been the force that has taken TED across the planet and seeded all of these communities. — Chris Anderson, Head of TED

TEDx Business

Internal events spotlighting innovation, fostering collaboration, and energizing professional development

At TED, we use our world-famous conference format to advance our internal culture. We wanted to make it available to companies to help them transform from the inside. We named it TEDx Business. — Jay Herratti, TEDx Executive Director

Why

We believe in showcasing talent. TEDx Business events promote:

Thought leadership

The TED style encourages bold thinking and asks employees to share dynamic ideas outside of day-to-day work.

TEDx gives employees opportunities to express their ideas and life stories freely.

— TEDxHyundai organizer

A culture of innovation

Organizing teams & attendees learn how to build meaningful narratives around their ideas and improve presentation skills.

We've organized employee events before. With the TEDx brand the difference was night and day.

— TEDxP&GSingapore organizer

Employee-powered engagement

TEDx events engage employees and ideas at all scales while empowering cross-departmental collaboration.

It empowers employees with greater intentionality, clear decision making and bias to take action now.

— TEDxAbbVie organizer

How

Our dedicated account management expedites each organizing step:

Apply for your license

Submit your online TEDx Business application and start internally sharing your TEDx branded event name to build enthusiasm throughout your organization.

Your TEDx Business Account Manager incorporates additional event or livestream needs and expedites your application.

Assemble your team

Assess your event's scale and your subsequent needs and then recruit accordingly, using your designated event page on TED.com to share with colleagues.

Your TEDx Business Account Manager can connect you with local TEDx organizers who contract their services.

Create your timeline

Map out your goals for food and beverage, registration, promotion and stage management, tapping into the planning tools offered on the TEDx Hub and TEDx Facebook group.

Your TEDx Business Account Manager fields your questions to ensure your event is on track for success.

Develop your strategy

Ensure speakers are prepared to give the talk of their lives and if your schedule allows, attend TED events so you learn from the TEDx team and experience a top-notch event.

Your TEDx Business Account Manager can curate TED talks to include in your program that align with your theme.

Host your event

Watch colleagues be "wowed" by the details you planned to make them feel special and then post recorded TEDx Talks so speakers' ideas carry a legacy and reach all employees.

Your TEDx Business Account Manager shares a survey and co-creates a case study for you to internally share event success.

Results

We celebrate companies' success. Here are some examples:

TEDxJNJ

Organizing over 10 annual events for five years, Johnson & Johnson established a thriving program for innovative collaboration.

It changed how thousands of employees approach work and influenced how we attract, retain and develop talent.

—TEDxJNJ Executive

TEDxYPFBuenosAires

After completing its second annual event, TEDxYPFBuenosAires is already looking forward to more events for years to come.

Talks came from speakers across different teams within YPF ranging from personal passions to hiring practices.

— TEDxYPFBuenosAires Volunteer

TEDxL'OrealNYC

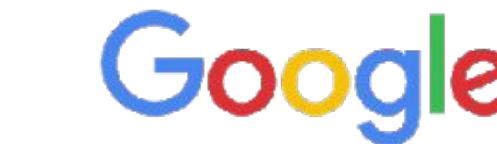

L'Oreal's first event in NYC sparked corporate-wide conversations to expand the program globally the following year.

The power of TEDx lies not only in its ability to change your thinking but that you then carry this change with you.

— TEDxL'OrealNYC Attendee

In good company

The world's leading companies have brought TEDx to their workplace.

Event Spotlight

TEDxP&GSingapore

TEDx transformed P&G Singapore's annual meeting. Now in its third year, the event featured 16 speakers and united 600 colleagues for a day of inspiration to reach their full potential.

FAQs

1. I'm a TEDx organizer already. Can I be paid to organize a TEDx Business event?

Yes! Some companies hire a local TEDx organizer to produce/curate its TEDx Business event. TEDx organizers agree the fee for their services directly with the company, which organizers can pocket, use to fund their trip to a TED conference, or put towards their local TEDx event. You've gained expertise from your TEDx journey -- utilize it!

2. Who applies for the license?

TEDx Business licensees must be employees of the company organizing the event. TEDx organizers who are hired by a company to produce a TEDx Business event are viewed as employees by TED and may apply for the license (while maintaining your existing TEDx license).

3. What is the license fee for a Business event?

Fees are set according to company size and support the non-profit TEDx platform. Most licenses range between $10,000 - $100,000 USD per event. Please email tedxpartnerships@ted.com the company name, employee size of the event location, and approximate company annual revenue in order to receive a full quote. License fees are confirmed and processed directly with TED.

4. What guidelines does the licensee need to follow?

Business events must adhere to the TEDx Rules and Business license rules which safeguard the integrity of the TEDx brand.

5. Can clients or customers attend a TEDx Business event?

With an employee-focused spirit, Business events are internal only. Only speakers maybe external. Clients and customers are not permitted to participate. Only company employees may attend.

6. Can more than 100 guests attend a TEDx Business event?

Keeping with the TEDx Rules, attendees can exceed 100 only once the licensee has attended a qualifying TED conference. If a company hires a qualified TEDx organizer to apply for their TEDx Business license, the event may be 100+.

7. Can events or talks be promoted externally?

No external promotion of the event or its talks is allowed. This includes social media. Internal promotion only.

8. Do talks get posted on the TEDx YouTube channel?

Keeping with the spirit of the program, talks may only be hosted on an internal, password-protected site for employees only. Encouraging viewership throughout the company is a great way to ensure impact beyond event day.

9. What is the value companies get from organizing a TEDx Business event?

TEDx Business events bring employees together around ideas, provide a professional learning development opportunity in teaching the TED format of public speaking, and surface ideas worth spreading from the ground up within the company.

10. What types of external TED events are available for companies?

TED partners with companies in many ways. If a company wishes to partner with TED and has external-facing partnership objectives, please email tedxpartnerships@ted.com to be connected to the right contact at TED.

Contact the TEDx team

Michael Ryan
TEDx Partnerships
tedxpartnerships@ted.com