Meet the Council

Howard Lee Morgan

“As a scientist and businessman, continuing to see the importance of art and design is a highlight of TED and TEDx events,” Howard says. Howard has been a TEDster since 1993. To him, TED is “where I continue to see the future and am able to leverage that knowledge”.

For over 30 years, Howard’s expertise in computer science, information systems, and marketing has enhanced companies working on the forefront of technology. He is the Co-Founder and Special Advisor to First Round Capital, Chairman of B Capital Group, President of Arca Group Inc., and a founding investor and Director of Idealab. Howard brings his comprehensive knowledge of business leadership and technological innovation as well as a passion for the arts to the TEDx Council.

Howard and his wife, Eleanor, live in New York and have three grown children.
